

Total Selects Paradigm SKUA Technology

Following intensive testing and validation, Total has adopted SKUA as part of its next generation geomodeling technology solution.

(AMSTERDAM, Netherlands: March 17, 2011) Paradigm™ (www.pdgm.com) announced today that Total (www.total.com) has adopted Paradigm™ SKUA®, a 3D modeling methodology that unifies all discrete subsurface models, as a stand-alone application. Furthermore, utilizing the SKUA development kit, Total is now integrating SKUA into its proprietary geosciences platform alongside its leading subsurface geosciences processes and methodologies.
