

Penhaligon's Juniper Sling

SEPTEMBER 16, 2011 10:14 AM ARTICLE BY MONICA HARRIS

Our fragrant friends at Penhaligon's have recently launched an exciting new scent, developed over the last year, called Juniper Sling. It's an intoxicating fragrance inspired by the most iconic and atmospheric of spirits: London Dry Gin. Created for Penhaligon's by Master Perfumer Olivier Cresp, Juniper Sling is a playful, chilled and mysterious homage to the Bright Young Things of London's roaring Twenties.

A unisex scent for enigmatic boys and girls, Juniper Sling is a crisp cocktail shot of gin with the freshness of juniper, cool measures of angelica and brandy and a beating libertine heart of black pepper, cardamom, soft leather and orris. A gourmand base of brown sugar, black cherry and amber add sensuality to the scent.

A beloved and iconic tippie has been transformed into a complex and compulsive skin scent. Apply liberally and drink in. Perhaps not literally. Unless you've run out of gin...

Fragrance Breakdown - Head Notes: Cinnamon, Orange Brandy, Angelica, Juniper Berry Heart Notes: Cardamom, Leather, Black Pepper, Orris Wood. Base Notes: Brown Sugar, Black Cherry, Vetiver, Ambrox.

<http://www.arbuturian.com/2011/penhaligons-juniper-sling>